2 BASIS OF CONTRACT

- 2.1 These Conditions apply to the Contract to the exclusion of any other terms that the Customer seeks to impose or incorporate, or which are implied by trade, custom, practice or course of dealing.
- 2.2 The Order constitutes an offer by the Customer to purchase the Goods and any associated Services in accordance with these Conditions. The Customer is responsible for ensuring that the terms of the Order are complete and accurate. If the Customer is acting as a Consumer, then the Customer may only purchase Goods from the Supplier or through its website if the Customer is at least 18 years old.
- 2.3 The Order shall only be deemed to be accepted when the Supplier issues an Order Confirmation Form (including email confirmation as supplied by the Supplier's sales team and/or generated through a website Order), at which point the Contract shall come into existence.
- 2.4 The Contract constitutes the entire agreement between the parties. The Customer acknowledges that it has not relied on any statement, promise, representation, assurance or warranty made or given by or on behalf of the Supplier which is not set out in the Contract.
- 2.5 Any samples, drawings, descriptive matter, or advertising produced by the Supplier and any descriptions or illustrations contained in the Supplier's catalogues or brochures or on its website are produced for the sole purpose of giving an approximate idea of the Goods described in them. They shall not form part of the Contract or have any contractual force.
- 2.6 If provided, a quotation for the Goods and any associated Services given by the Supplier shall not constitute an offer. A quotation shall only be valid for a period of 30 days from its date of issue, after which period the quotation shall be open to revision by the Supplier.
- 2.7 Clauses 2.8-2.18 only apply if the Customer is contracting as a Consumer.
- 2.8 Subject to clause 2.9, a Consumer Customer may cancel an order as follows:
 - 2.8.1 the Customer may cancel an Order any time before the Supplier despatches the Goods by contacting the Supplier in accordance with clauses 2.10-2.18. If the Goods have already been despatched at the time of cancellation of the Order by the Customer, the Supplier will cancel the Order once the Goods have been delivered;
 - 2.8.2 the Customer may cancel an Order before the expiry of the period set out in clause 2.12 by contacting the Supplier in accordance with clause 2.10; and
 - 2.8.3 provided no cancellation exception is set out in the Contract, the Customer may cancel an Order after expiry of the period set out in clause 2.12 on written agreement by the Supplier. The Supplier reserves the right to charge a Re-stocking Fee to the Customer for cancellations in accordance with this clause 2.8.3.

In each case set out in 2.8.1 and clause 2.8.2, the Customer shall return the Goods to the Supplier at the Customer's cost and upon receipt the Supplier shall refund the Customer for the Goods themselves (less any Re-stocking Fee in accordance with clause 2.8.2), but not any charges for delivery of the Goods or any charge for collection by or return to the Supplier following cancellation.

- 2.9 For made-to-measure Goods, as these are made to the Customer's requirements, the Customer will not be able to cancel the Order once made, but this will not affect the Customer's legal rights as a Consumer in relation to made-to-measure Goods that are faulty or not as described. A Customer may also not cancel an order for Goods where those Goods become mixed inseparably with other items after their delivery.

- 2.10 Subject to clause 2.9, to cancel a Contract in accordance with the Customer's legal right to do so when it is contracting as a Consumer (as set out in clause 2.11below), the Customer will need to let the Supplier know that it has decided to cancel. The easiest way to do this is to contact us by email at: enquiries@harlequinfloors.com. If the Customer uses this method, the Supplier will e-mail to confirm it has received the Customer's cancellation in accordance with its Consumer rights. The Customer can also post, e-mail or telephone the Supplier, using the details set out herein. The Customer must include details of their Order to help the Supplier identify it. If the Customer sends its cancellation notice by e-mail or by post, then the cancellation is effective from the date the Customer sends the e-mail or post the letter to the Supplier.
- 2.11 If the Customer is a Consumer, then subject to clause 2.9, the Customer has a legal right to cancel a Contract under the Consumer Contracts (Information, Cancellation and Additional Charges) Regulations 2013 during the period set out below in clause 2.12. This means that during the relevant period, if a Consumer Customer changes their mind or decides for any other reason that it does not want to receive or keep Goods Ordered, the Consumer Customer can notify the Supplier of its decision to cancel the Contract and receive a refund. Advice about a Consumer's legal right to cancel the Contract is available from local Citizens' Advice Bureau or Trading Standards office.
- 2.12 A Consumer Customer's legal right to cancel a Contract starts from the date of on which the Supplier emails to confirm acceptance of a Customer's Order in accordance with clause 2.3, which is when the Contract is formed. A Consumer Customer's deadline for cancelling the Contract then depends on what the Consumer Customer has ordered/requested and how it is delivered, as set out in the table below:

Your Contract	End of the cancellation period
Your Contract is for a single item of Good (which is not delivered in instalments on separate days).	The end date is the end of 14 days after the day on which you receive the Good. Example: if we provide you with a confirmation of Order email on 1 January and you receive the Good on 10 January you may cancel at any time between 1 January and the end of the day on 24 January.
Your Contract is for either of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - one Good which is delivered in instalments on separate days. - multiple Goods which are delivered on separate days. 	The end date is 14 days after the day on which you receive the last instalment of the Good or the last of the separate Goods ordered. Example: if we provide you with a confirmation of Order email on 1 January and you receive the first instalment of your Good or the first of your separate Goods on 10 January and the last instalment or last separate Good on 15 January you may cancel in respect of all instalments and any or all of the separate Goods at any time between 1 January and the end of the day on 29 January.
Your Contract is for the regular delivery of a Good over a set period.	The end date is 14 days after the day on which you receive the first delivery of the Goods. Example: if we provide you with a confirmation of Order email on 1 January in respect of Goods to be delivered at regular intervals over a year and you receive the first delivery of your Good on 10 January, you may cancel at any time between 1 January and the end of the day on 24 January. 24 January is the last day of the cancellation period in respect of all Goods to arrive during the year.

- 2.13 To cancel a Contract, the Consumer Customer needs to let the Supplier know that it has decided to cancel. The easiest way to do this is to write The easiest way to do this is to contact us by email at: enquiries@harlequinfloors.com. If the Consumer Customer uses this method the Supplier will e-mail the Consumer Customer to confirm it has received cancellation notice. If the Consumer Customer sends cancellation notice by e-mail or by post, then cancellation is effective from the date the Consumer Customer sends the e-mail or posts the letter to the Supplier. For example, the Consumer Customer will have given notice in time as long as the Consumer Customer gets their letter into the last post on the last day of the cancellation period or e-mails the Supplier before midnight on that day.
- 2.14 If the Consumer Customer cancels their Contract the Supplier will:
- 2.14.1 refund the price paid for the Goods. However, please note the Supplier is permitted by law to reduce a refund to reflect any reduction in the value of the Goods, if this has been caused by the Consumer Customer's handling them in a way which would not be permitted in a shop.
- 2.14.2 refund any delivery costs the Consumer Customer has paid, although, as permitted by law, the maximum refund will be the costs of delivery by the least expensive delivery

- method the Supplier offers (provided that this is a common and generally acceptable method). For example, if the Supplier offers delivery of Goods within 3-5 days at one cost but the Consumer Customer chooses to have the Goods delivered within 24 hours at a higher cost, then the Supplier will only refund what the Consumer Customer would have paid for the cheaper delivery option.
- 2.14.3 make any refunds due to the Consumer Customer as soon as possible and in any event within the deadlines indicated below:
- 2.14.3.1 if you have received Goods and the Supplier has not offered to collect it from the Consumer Customer: 14 days after the day on which the Supplier receives the Goods back from the Consumer Customer or, if earlier, the day on which the Consumer Customer provides the Supplier with evidence that the Consumer Customer has sent the Goods back to the Supplier. For information about how to return Goods to the Supplier, see clause 2.17;
- 2.14.3.2 if you have not received the Goods or you have received them and the Supplier has offered to collect them from the Consumer Customer: 14 days after the Consumer Customer informs us of their decision to cancel the Contract.
- 2.15 If the Consumer Customer has returned the Goods to the Supplier under clauses 2.10-2.14 because they are faulty or mis-described, the Supplier will refund the price of the Goods in full, together with any applicable delivery charges, and any reasonable costs incurred by the Consumer Customer in returning the item(s) to the Supplier.
- 2.16 The Supplier will refund the Consumer Customer on the credit card or debit card used by the Consumer Customer to pay, or if the Customer has paid by other means, the Supplier will refund the Customer by such other means as the Supplier chooses.
- 2.17 If Goods have been delivered to the Consumer Customer before they decide to cancel their Contract:
- 2.17.1 then the Consumer Customer must return it/them to the Supplier without undue delay and in any event not later than 14 days after the day on which the Consumer Customer let the Supplier know that the Consumer Customer wished to cancel the Contract. The Consumer Customer can either send it back, return it to the Supplier in-store or hand it to the Supplier's authorised carrier. If the Supplier has offered to collect the Goods from the Consumer Customer (as confirmed to the Consumer Customer by email from the Supplier), the Supplier will collect the Goods from the address to which they were delivered. The Supplier will contact the Customer to arrange a suitable time for collection;
- 2.17.2 unless the Goods are faulty or not as described (in this case, see clause 5 below), the Consumer Customer will be responsible for the cost of returning the Goods to the Supplier. If the Goods are one which cannot be returned by post, the Supplier estimates that if the Consumer Customer uses the carrier which delivered the Goods to the Consumer Customer, these costs should not exceed the sums the Supplier charged the Consumer Customer for delivery. If the Supplier has offered to collect the Goods from the Consumer Customer, the Supplier will charge the Consumer Customer the direct cost to the Supplier of collection. Any charge for collection of specific Goods will be communicated to the Consumer Customer at the time of cancellation.
- 2.18 The Customer has legal rights in relation to the Goods where these are faulty or not as described, in accordance with clause 5. These legal rights are not affected by the Customer's right of return and refund in clauses 2.8-18 or anything else in these Conditions.
- 3 GOODS
- 3.1 The Goods are described on the Supplier's website or in the Supplier's catalogue as modified by any applicable Specification.
- 3.2 To the extent that any Goods may be manufactured in accordance with a Specification supplied by the Customer, the Customer shall indemnify the Supplier against all liabilities, costs, expenses, damages and losses (including any direct, indirect or consequential losses, loss of profit, loss of reputation and all interest, penalties and legal and other reasonable professional costs and expenses) suffered or incurred by the Supplier in connection with any claim made against the Supplier for actual or alleged infringement of a third party's Intellectual Property Rights arising out of or in connection with the Supplier's use of the Goods Specification. This clause 3.2 shall survive termination of the Contract.
- 3.3 The Supplier reserves the right to amend the Goods Specification if required by any applicable statutory or regulatory requirements.

3.4 The Customer acknowledges that all Orders are accepted on the condition that the Customer has used its own skill and judgment to ascertain that the Goods are reasonably fit for any particular purpose for which they are being bought and the Customer has not relied on any skill or judgment of the Supplier.

3.5 Unless expressly otherwise agreed by the Supplier, the Customer shall be wholly responsible for ensuring the Goods are used in such a manner as to ensure compliance with all laws and regulations.

4 DELIVERY

4.1 The Supplier shall deliver the Goods to the location set out in the Order or such other location as the parties may agree ("Delivery Location") at any time after the Supplier notifies the Customer that the Goods are ready.

4.2 Delivery of the Goods shall be completed on the Goods' arrival at the entrance (if there is a defined entrance) or otherwise at the kerbside of the Delivery Location. The Customer acknowledges that the Goods may be substantial in weight, and it is not permitted to reject delivery of the Goods in this regard.

4.3 Any dates quoted for delivery are approximate only, and the time of delivery is not of the essence. The Supplier shall not be liable for any delay in delivery of the Goods that is caused by a Force Majeure Event or the Customer's failure to provide the Supplier with adequate delivery instructions or any other instructions that are relevant to the supply of the Goods.

4.4 Clauses 4.5 to 4.7 apply if the Customer is contracting as a Consumer.

4.5 If the Supplier fails to deliver any or all of the Goods within 30 days of the date of the Contract ("Delivery Deadline"), then the Customer may cancel the Contract if any of the following apply:

4.5.1 the Supplier has refused to deliver the Goods;

4.5.2 delivery within the Delivery Deadline was essential (taking into account all the relevant circumstances); or

4.5.3 the Customer told the Supplier before the Supplier accepted the Order that delivery within the Delivery Deadline was essential.

4.6 If the Customer does not wish to cancel the Contract straight away, or does not have the right to do so under clause 4.5, the Customer may give the Supplier a new deadline for delivery, which must be reasonable, and may cancel the Contract if the Supplier does not deliver the Goods by this new deadline.

4.7 If the Customer chooses to cancel the Contract for late delivery under clause 4.5 or clause 4.6, the Customer may do so for just some of the Goods or all of them, unless splitting them up would significantly reduce their value. If the Goods have been delivered to the Customer, the Customer will have to return them to the Supplier or allow the Supplier to collect them, and the Supplier will pay the costs of this. After the Customer cancels the Contract the Supplier shall refund any sums the Customer has paid to the Supplier for the cancelled Goods and their delivery.

4.8 If the Supplier fails to deliver the Goods, its liability shall be limited to the costs and expenses incurred by the Customer in obtaining replacement goods of similar description and quality in the cheapest market available, less the price of the Goods. The Supplier shall have no liability for any failure to deliver the Goods to the extent that such failure is caused by a Force Majeure Event or the Customer's failure to provide the Supplier with adequate delivery instructions or any other instructions that are relevant to the supply or installation of the Goods. The Customer shall notify the Supplier in writing of any non-delivery of consigned Goods within 7 days of the date of the invoice for the Goods.

4.9 If the Customer fails to accept delivery of the Goods, then, except where such failure or delay is caused by a Force Majeure Event or the Supplier's failure to comply with its obligations under the Contract:

4.9.1 delivery of the Goods shall be deemed to have been completed at 9.00 am on the third Business Day after the day on which the Supplier notified the Customer that the Goods were ready;

4.9.2 the Supplier shall store the Goods until delivery takes place, and charge the Customer for all related costs and expenses (including insurance); and

4.9.3 the Customer shall be liable to pay a further delivery charge, and shall be liable to the Supplier for any costs or expenses incurred by the Supplier in connection with the Customer's failure to take delivery.

4.10 If 10 Business Days after the day on which the Supplier notified the Customer that the Goods were ready for delivery the Customer has not accepted delivery of them, the Supplier may resell or otherwise dispose of part or all of the Goods and, after deducting reasonable storage and selling costs, account to the Customer for any excess over the price of the Goods or charge the Customer for any shortfall below the price of the Goods.

4.11 The Customer shall not be entitled to reject the Goods if the Supplier delivers up to and including 5% more or less than the quantity of Goods ordered, but a pro rata adjustment shall be made to the Order invoice on receipt of notice from the Customer that the wrong quantity of Goods was delivered.

4.12 The Supplier may deliver the Goods by instalments, which shall be invoiced and paid for separately. Each instalment shall constitute a separate Contract. Any delay in delivery or defect in an instalment shall not entitle the Customer to cancel any other instalment.

12 CONFIDENTIALITY

A party ("receiving party") shall keep in strict confidence all technical or commercial know-how, specifications, inventions, processes or initiatives which are of a confidential nature and have been disclosed to the receiving party by the other party ("disclosing party"), its employees, agents or subcontractors, and any other confidential information concerning the disclosing party's business, its products and services which the receiving party may obtain.
